

Newlong Industrial 172181A Needle Thread

172181A Needle Thread Take-up Assembly for Newlong Industrial DD5 and other compatible machines. This part is different as the parts are clinged together and not screwed together. in addition the part where the thread goes through is replacable with just a screw. When it is worn out you only need to replace this part

The 172181A is a needle thread pick up assembly for the Newlong Industrial DD5 sewing machine. This assembly is responsible for picking up the sewing thread from the bobbin and delivering it to the needle. It is a critical component of the sewing machine, and it is important to keep it in good working order to ensure that your machine sews properly.

